Assistant is fired by Supt. Portell

ASSISTANT STREET SUPT. JAMES STACK

(Tenth in a series on politics in Madison County)
What might have become a relatively low-key resolution of the Granite City street superintendent issue now may require the special election sought by 8,400 petition signatures.

Supt. Lionel Portell acted Friday to fire Assistant Supt. James Stack Jr., perhaps upsetting a delicate balance under which Portell might have been conceded the right to run for reelection perpetually.
Some in the city government feel Portell exceeded his authority and simultaneously miscalculated public sentiment, just as the City Council miscalculated in voting April 26 to make the elective office appointive.

Such miscalculations sometimes change a "white hat" or "transgressed against" public image into "transgressor-black hat." But Portell has displayed a consistent ability to retain public favor.
Still lost in the dust of political battle is the theoretical question of whether an efficient municipal organization chart would make the office of street superintendent appointive or elective for maximum effective response in carrying out Council-appropriated projects and services needed or desired by the public.
Because that issue is obscured by the emotions built up on both sides, deciding factors may relate primarily to the specific persons involved.
As noted, with the flick stack of petitions presented July 5 by an informal citizen committee headed by Mrs. Mildred Crider, it appeared possible that the cost of a requested Oct. 4 special election might be avoided.

On a voice vote, alderman instructed the city attorney to prepare an ordinance by July 19 rescinding the April vote. With the street superintendent position restored to elective status, an election to accomplish that would be unnecessary.

However, Friday's move against the occupant of a Council-created post, assistant superintendent, may be interpreted by some as a Portell rejection of any easy or harmonious aldermanic response.

GC industry praised by Gov. Thompson

A large gathering was present here Thursday afternoon as Governor James R. Thompson joined officers of both the Granite City Steel Division and its parent company, National Steel Corporation, in commissioning a new breakpoint chlorination and filtration plant.

The new facility provides advanced, third-stage treatment for all the water — 25 million gallons a day — Granite City Steel discharges into Horseshoe Lake.

James V. Stack, president of Granite City Steel, said the new plant is the largest treatment system for industrial wastewater in the bi-state St. Louis area and one of the largest "breakpoint chlorination" plants ever built.

Breakpoint chlorination is a process which converts ammonia in the wastewater to nitrogen gas, a natural constituent of the atmosphere.
Howard McC. Love, president of National Steel Corporation, pointed out that the function of the new plant is to reduce already low levels of suspended solids, iron and ammonia-nitrogen concentrations.

Many contaminants in the steel mill's wastewater have already been removed by

'Who won?' is the question

By GARY SCHNEIDER

A court-ordered recount of the ballots from the April 5 Nameeki Township election has failed to clarify one important question — who won?
Attorneys for competing sides in the election met Thursday and Friday to recount the ballots from the township election, including the ballots for all the trustee candidates, but ended with many close races and a total of 493 contested ballots.

Circuit Judge Victor Mosele, acting chief judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, will have to rule on each of the contested ballots before it will be known who won each seat.
The recount showed only six votes difference in the supervisor's race. Unofficial tallies show 1,333 votes for Harold Davis and 1,327 for Louis Whitell, plus the contested ballots.

Judge Mosele also will have other questions to resolve, including whether trustee votes should be counted, despite his earlier ruling dismissing the trustee suits, and whether the suit filed on behalf of Joseph Boyer, unsuccessful trustee candidate, should be considered even though some lawyers regard the wording of an earlier order Mosele issued as dismissing that suit.
The recount and hearings on the issue have been surrounded with cries from both sides alleging political influence, inappropriate rulings, changes

Taxi licenses seized

The Quad-City area remains without taxicab service today in a disagreement over insurance which caused the Illinois secretary of state's office to seize the license plates of all taxicabs here Friday afternoon. Officials of Dave's Taxi and Checker Cab Co., the only taxicab firms in the Quad-City area, contend they do have insurance and showed their cancelled checks and paid receipts to investigators of the secretary of state's office Friday.

A spokesman for the secretary of state's office in Springfield told the Press-Record this morning that copies of the insurance policies are not on file with that office and the licenses cannot be released until those policies or certificates of insurance are on file.

"Under the Illinois Vehicle Code, he had to pull the license plates until proof of insurance is on file with this office," the spokesman said.
The regular insurance for the taxicab companies here was cancelled and both were put into the state's assigned risk pool to be assigned an insurance company.
That company has been assigned, but proof of insurance has not yet been given to the secretary of state, the spokesman contended.

An official of Dave's Taxi said the two taxicab services are working "hand in glove" together to resolve the issue and have contacted an attorney to attempt to resolve the impasse.
The official added that Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler attempted during the weekend to resolve the problem and added, "The mayor is pretty hot about this."
Mayor Schuler was in Chicago today and unavailable for comment.

Big day at River Fest

A gala day is in store Sunday for Quad-Cityans at the Mississippi River Festival at SIUE, climaxed by an evening concert of Rodgers and Hammerstein music by singer Gordon MacRae and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.
Coupons filled in at the time tickets are purchased, either at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce office, 1831 Delmar Ave., or at the River Fest site on the night of the concert, will return 20 per cent to Granite City, Madison and Venice school music activities.
Tickets cost $3.50 for general admission and $4, $5 or $6 for tent seating.

Area arts and crafts will be featured during the day at the MRF area, and there will be varied entertainment on the grounds, including nationally-known puppet performers.

Lightning struck the home of Edward J. Topp, 2623 Benton St., causing a total of $1,500 damage at 3:15 p.m. Friday after traveling from a clock radio and then up a bedroom wall to the ceiling.

Firemen, at the scene 55 minutes, estimated damage at $1,000 to the structure and $500 to contents.

FLOODED STREETS make driving difficult for motorists in this area, after storms Friday and Sunday afternoons. Shown Friday is the 1600 block of Madison Avenue, looking northeast, as motorists at the right had to pass through water about six inches deep.

Housing authorities develop new insurance 'package' plan

A consortium of 40 public housing authorities in Illinois—including the Granite City and the Madison County Housing Authorities—have joined in an experimental program designed to lower their insurance rates.

The authorities included in the consortium represent 15,855 living units for a total of $280,377,731 in combined insurable real estate.

"Through this aggregation of resources, we hope that the insurance situation will be generally improved for the policy holder, and that the market will be stabilized, resulting in cost savings for the public housing authorities and the taxpayers," according to Kent Watkins, president of the Institute for Housing Management Innovations, the firm which developed the bid proposal as part of a $330,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The consortium is seeking bids for fire and extended coverage, general liability and non-owned vehicle coverage, fidelity bond, steam boiler, workmen's compensation, auto liability and accident and health, and pensions.

Engineering data, background information, maps, photos and summary figures are provided for each project in a 713 page bid proposal, available at the Madison County Housing Authority.

While the bid proposal was prepared by the Kent Watkins & Associates firm, planning and development of the consortium program for the 40 separate housing authorities were handled by Edward Foley, executive director of the Madison County Housing Authority, and Dave Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority. Foley said, "With this new plan, we anticipate substantial savings; I wholeheartedly support the project." Foley continued, "We can't get it moving fast enough."

The procedure developed by the Institute will be used to establish a national model for public housing authorities throughout the country who may wish to work cooperatively to lower insurance rates.

The 713-page bid proposal represents the 40 housing authorities which operate 203 projects with 15,855 living units and a total real estate insurance value of $280,377,731. These units have a total of 562 employees, 137 autos and approximately 260 boilers.

The sealed bids will be opened Aug. 3 at 11 a.m. at the Madison County Housing Authority. Further information and copies of the proposal are available at the Madison County House Authority office at 1609 Olive St., Collinsville. Bid proposals also are available at the Greater Metropolitan Area Housing Authority, East Moline, Ill.; Housing Authority of the City of Elgin, Elgin, Ill.; Springfield Full Service Housing Office, Springfield, Ill.; and the HUD Area Office, Chicago.

PARKED AUTO LOOTED

Items valued at about $220 were stolen from the auto of Louis Bojowski, 1028 Iowa St., Madison, parked in the 2400 block of East 24th Street, it was discovered Thursday. A wire or coat hanger was believed used to unlock a door. Taken were 15 tape recordings, two speakers, a socket wrench set, a tool box and tools and a $30 FM radio converter.

Bike-a-thon award earned by Jarrett

More than $92,000, a record amount, was raised by the 2,550 riders who participated in the Diabetes Bike-A-Thon this spring, the events chairman, Gloria Hirsch, has announced.

In the four previous Bike-A-Thons, $294,000 was raised for a summer camp for children with diabetes and for diabetes research. Mrs. Hirsch said Cheryl Cunningham of South Roxana raised the largest amount of money from sponsors at the Madison County route at SIUD and received an electric ice cream maker as her prize. Other winners from Madison County were: Larry Robin, Alton; Ronald Smith, Jean Loemker and A. J. Schnack, all of Edwardsville; Gail Halbrook, Glen Carbon; James Jarrett, Granite City; Susan Linksvayer, Highland; Phillip Maguire, Roxana; and Jim Bress, Troy; 17 prizes contributed by businesses were given in all.

Mrs. Madeline Roney of Edwardsville was chairman of the Madison County Bike-A-Thon route. Mrs. Wanda Grossheim of Godfrey was distribution chairman. Assisting her were Nancy Gregory and Mrs. Jean Francis of Edwardsville. Pat Draper of Highland and Betty Lee Bagby and Judy Maguire, both of Wood River.

The bike-a-thon is sponsored annually by the Diabetic Children's Welfare Association.

Pleasurecraft advised to beware of towboats

"You have probably watched towboats pushing their strings of barges steadily up the river. And you have probably also wondered about the man who captains such a vessel," a spokesman for the U.S. Coast Guard Boating Safety Branch (314-425-5871) said today.

"Towboat captains must know every bend and sand bar of their river. This takes years of experience. Many of these men have spent most of their lives on the rivers. They are, to the inland rivers, what the truck drivers are to the nation's highways. Most towboat captains are safety conscious, but they can't control the driving habits of the other people they share the waters with—the recreational boaters."

"And a towboat, underway with a full load, cannot come to a quick stop. It is dangerous to operate too closely to a towboat. Cutting back and forth, or zig-zagging across the bow, has resulted in many accidents and fatalities. When you come to an area where barges are floated (moored in groups), reduce your speed."

"The wake from small powerboats can break up these strings of barges, damaging them, and even setting them adrift, which endangers lives and property in their path. There have also been instances of barges being shot at, which is dangerous to anyone working on the barges, not to mention the possible property damage."

"Vandalism has also occurred as the result of unauthorized people boarding floated barges. Any kind of interference with interstate commerce, whether damage, or vandalism, is a violation of federal law."

"You can make things much easier for the river captains if you exercise a little care and common sense. The next time you come upon a towboat underway, and you get some idea about cutting across his bow, don't. Stop and think for a minute about the man at the helm; his responsibility for his vessel, his crew and his cargo. He's just doing his job, and his job would be much easier if he knew that you as a boater were also a good skipper."

M-V Rotary committee chairmen appointed

Committee chairmen appointments were made for the Madison-Venice Rotary Club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison-Venice Recreation Center.

Henry Gray, presiding over his first club meeting as the new president, appointed the following committee chairmen: Thomas Volecki and Leo Schermer, public relations; Jerry Maeras, finance promotions; Chris Paschoff and Mayor Mike Sasek, community service; Wade James and Robert Vickers, youth service; Milton Morris and Jim Perdue, handicapped.

Clarence Green and Webster Stanley, senior citizens; Roy Jackson, classification; Wayne

Scannell, fellowship; Ray Edwards and Henry Baucum, membership; Frank Kierski, program chairman; W. F. "Mick" Strange, club bulletin; Roy Jackson and Alex Markuly, club photographers; Fred Smith and Jack Friedman, club historians.

Gray thanked the Ladies Democratic Club and the Ladies City Organization for buying 120 metal chairs for the recreation center.

Rev. Walter Walters reported on club plans for pop corn and lemonade stand at Alpine Days in Madison, July 14, 15 and 16. He announced the club directors will meet following next Wednesday's meeting.

Fred Waring show at MRF

An evening of jazz, two nights of symphony, the Fred Waring Show, the Ozark Mountain Daredevils, and the continuation of the film and chamber music series are all in a span of activities beginning Wednesday, July 13, at the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The week opens with Roy Ayers' Ubiquitous and Stanley Turrentine on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. Ayers, a master of the vibraphone, will lead his group through a set that will range from jazz to rock, latin, and soul rhythms.

Turrentine, a jazz saxophonist of high standing, is one of the leaders of the jazz "crossover" movement that has brought wider commercial appeal to jazz while retaining the jazz faithful.

On Thursday, July 14, the film series of the MRF continues with "Mrs. Miniver," a 1942 classic that focuses on the impact of war on an upper-class English family. William Wyler directs Greer Garson through her role as a pre-war gadabout to a wartime heroine of great emotional strength and dignity.

All films in the series are shown in Meridian Hall of the University Center, starting at 7:30 p.m. Admission is by donation.

On Friday, July 15, at 8:30 p.m., the Fred Waring Show will bring Waring's blend of timeless music to the Festival site, with his Young Pennsylvanians and the Waring Blenders. Currently in his 61st year of entertaining, Waring brings a show to the MRF that has roots in the Waring Banjo Orchestra begun in 1916 by Waring's brother Tom and drummer Poley McClintock, who still tours with the show today.

On Saturday and Sunday, July 16 and 17, the St. Louis Symphony will appear at the Festival site in a pair of special evenings.

On Saturday at 8:30 p.m., percussionist John Kasica will be highlighted with his performance of Beethoven's "Percussion Concerto," a performance that features two five-minute solos by the percussionist on a wide variety of instruments.

On Sunday, at 7:30 p.m., the Symphony will share an evening of Rodgers and Hammerstein with festival patrons. Gordon Munford will be conductor and music director for the evening that features Gordon MacRae and the Jockey Club.

On both Saturday and Sunday, the annual MRF Regional Arts and Crafts Fair will display items made by regional craftsmen, many of them offered for sale to patrons. The Fair is an annual highlight of the MRF season, offering patrons a chance to watch items being made, as well as offering a wide variety of items for shoppers to purchase.

Admission to the Arts and Crafts Fair, which will begin each day at noon, is free.

The Chamber series continues on Monday, July 18, with a special "Young Artists Recital" featuring winners of the St. Louis Symphony's Young Artists Competition and the regional Three Rivers Piano Competition. The Chamber Series is presented in Meridian Hall starting at 8:30 p.m.

On Wednesday, July 20, the week closes with the Ozark Mountain Daredevils and special guest Jimmy Buffett. The Daredevils are known as one of the top country rock groups in the nation, although the group's music ranges widely from that single category. And Jimmy Buffett is one of the rock's hot items presently with his mix of reggae, calypso and folk music. "Margaritaville" is one of his current hits.

Tonight the Giovanni String Quartet will present selections from Haydn, Mendelssohn and Ginastera as the Chamber Music Series continues at 8:30 p.m. in Meridian Hall of the University Center.

Tomorrow, beginning at 8:30 p.m., the Phyllis Lamhut Dance Company will perform in the Communications Building Theater. Admission is $4.

FRED WARING, his Young Pennsylvanians and the Waring Blenders will present the Fred Waring Show Friday evening at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Waring is entering his 61st year of entertaining.

Insulation gives returns in heat loss reduction

By RON CORNWELL
County Agricultural Advisor

At a recent solar energy workshop, Rudy Jones of the University of Illinois Small Homes Council, made some excellent suggestions on insulating a home.

The first place to check is the attic. The attic is an area that most homeowners can easily add additional insulation. This is the area that additional insulation will give the biggest return in heat loss reduction.

The second thing to do is to make sure there are storm doors and windows. Windows are an area that normally has a high heat loss.

The third area is the basement or crawl space under the house. If you don't have a basement, insulate under the floor in the crawl space area. Basement walls and sill areas may need insulation.

Insulating the walls of an existing home is the most difficult for the homeowner. This will need to be professionally done in many situations.

How much insulation is needed? The 1974 Housing standards call for six inches in the ceiling, four inches in the walls and four inches under the floor.

Rudy Jones says the Small Homes Council uses 12 inches of insulation in the ceiling and 8 inches in the sidewalls in their recommendations. The extra cost of the insulation will pay off in the long run.

For tips on winter and summer energy conservation, write to the Small Homes

Council, University of Illinois, St. Mary's Road, Champaign, Ill. 61820. Ask for the circular "Living With the Energy Crisis." It cost $1 cents.

With the present price of wheat, dairymen may find that it is more economical to utilize wheat as part of the dairy ration.

If wheat is cracked, ground, or rolled it can be fed at up to one third of the dairy cow concentrate mixture. Because of the fineness of the ground wheat, dairy cows cannot efficiently digest larger amounts of wheat than this.

Assuming that wheat has a protein level that is 103 per cent of corn, it can be used as a partial corn substitute when comparative prices for corn or soybeans are high or when comparative prices for wheat are low. For example, if corn is selling for $2.25 per bushel and soybean oil is selling for $10 per 100 pounds, a comparative price for wheat should be about $2.60 per bushel.

In this example, if wheat is not bringing this price it would be more economical to substitute wheat as part of the dairy ration.

When replacing one third of the corn, in a ration with wheat, you can reduce the protein supplement by about 10 pounds per ton.

A forage field day is scheduled Friday, July 8, at 1 p.m., on the Harold Barnard farm located one-half mile north of Geff on Rt. 45 in Wayne County. This is in the area of Fairfield, Ill.

Machines to be demonstrated include the big round balers, loose hay stackers, choppers, stackers, rotary scythes and slashers and windrowers. Bale and stack mowers, big bale wagons, unbalers, bale and stack feeders and the use of chemical preservatives will also be demonstrated.

Many pesticides are toxic to honey bees. There are certain things a beekeeper can do to reduce pesticide problems with his bees.

Before starting an apiary, he should familiarize himself with the cropping practices in the area and the pest control methods used. In some cases he can expect damage to his bees and must weigh the risk against the anticipated returns from honey production.

Beekeepers should become acquainted with their neighbors in the areas where the bees will be located. Give your name, address and telephone number to each of these landowners. Acquaint them with the fact that you have honey bees. With this information, hopefully the landowner will notify the beekeeper at least 24 hours before spraying with an insecticide so the hives can be moved.

For additional information on this topic, request a free copy of Circular 1138 "Pesticides and Honey Bees" from the local Extension Service office.

Less taxes withheld; some may wish to adjust deduction

Most employees have noticed an increase in take-home pay received since June 1 because of lowered tax withholding rates. Internal Revenue Service District Director Ira S. Loeb points out. The rate adjustment results from the Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977.

"There's a good chance that taxpayers who generally receive a large refund may receive a lesser amount next year, or in some cases may even owe a tax bill due to the lower withholding rates," Loeb explained.

"Married taxpayers who are both employed, or taxpayers who hold more than one job, may find themselves in this kind of a situation. "Although taxpayers whose itemized deductions amount to more than the standard deduction may not be affected by this change, they should review their year-end withholding to be sure and file a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, with their employer."

Rainfall well above normal

The month of June proved to be a wet month, bringing a total of 6.66 inches of rain to the Quad-City area.

Records at the Chain of Rocks locks show that rain fell on 11 days of the month, with three of those days recording well over an inch of rain. On four days, more than half an inch of precipitation was recorded on each day.

June rainfall brought to 21.54 inches the total precipitation in the Quad-City area during the first six months of the year, or 3.47 inches more than the normal fall of 18.07 for the six-month period.

A fall of 1.30 inches was recorded on June 9, the first rain of the month—with another 1.20 inches registered on June 22 and 1.29 inches on June 27. Precipitation of more than a half-inch included .60 of an inch on June 13, .65 of an inch on June 24, another .63 of an inch on June 25 and .52 of an inch on June 28.

Other rainfall registered in June included .03 of an inch on June 19, .02 on June 20, .32 on June 23 and .10 on June 30.

While the month's total of 6.66 inches was among the heaviest of recent years, it was slightly less than March rainfall which measured 6.72 inches. During May another 4.40 inches of rain were recorded.

Rainfall during other months so far this year include 1.02 inches in January, 2.04 in February, .70 of an inch in April.

She had been ill for two years and a resident of the nursing home since January.

Mrs. Doeblin was born in St. Louis. She retired in 1966 from the office staff of the St. Louis American Red Cross, after 30 years of service.

A member of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, Mrs. Doeblin also belonged to the Ladies Golf Association at Sunset Hills Country Club.

$719,322 health grant

To help meet the health needs of Downstate Illinois, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been awarded nearly three-quarters of a million dollars by the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH).

According to Dean Patricia R. Forni of the SUIE School of Nursing, the $719,322 grant will provide support for the School of Nursing's Graduate Training Program in Psychiatric Community Mental Health (Nursing).

Under the direction of Dean Forni, the NIMH grant will cover a period of five years, beginning July 1, 1977, and extending to June 30, 1982.

Grant funds for the first year, amounting to $113,484 in direct costs, with an additional eight per cent in indirect costs, will include provisions for personnel, consultant services, equipment, supplies and travel expenses as well as 12 trainee stipends.

So that graduate students can attend classes full-time, they will receive an annual stipend of $3,900, as well as funds for tuition and travel.

According to student figures for the 1975-76 academic year, 71 per cent of the graduate nursing students at SUIE attended classes on a part-time basis. "At the present time, many of our students commute long distances to attend even on a part-time basis. Distances traveled range from 10 to 100 miles one way," Dean Forni said.

Full-time attendance is currently pursued primarily by married students with financial backing from their spouses, which is often limited. During the last year, two students received special graduate awards based on economic need and academic achievement. One student was supported through a religious order, and two received graduate assistantships.

"Another student worked nights during her entire program," Dean Forni said. All the students work at least part-time during their enrollment in the program, in addition to being full-time students.

"The commitment which these students have made in terms of clinical, field experience, travel, financial arrangements, program attendance and juggling of work schedules is considerable," she said.

"A critical need exists for trainee stipends which would permit full-time attendance for a greater number of students, facilitating their progress through the program and their potential impact on the surrounding communities."

With trainee stipend assistance, it is anticipated that 12 full-time students will be admitted in the fall quarter each year and will complete their programs the following fall quarter.

SUIE offers the only baccalaureate nursing program in the 24 Downstate counties that comprise Illinois health planning regions 4 and 5. In addition, the university offers the only program in psychiatric community mental health nursing at the master's level within a 250-mile radius.

"Currently, the closest equivalent master's program to that offered at SUIE is located in Chicago, 300 miles to the north," Dean Forni said. The graduate of the master's program in psychiatric community mental health nursing is prepared as an advanced nursing practitioner. He or she is capable of guiding others in the pursuit of mental health care activities in a variety of community settings, Dean Forni said.

Depending on the student's career goal, a nursing practitioner experience gives the graduate a preparatory background for assuming a nursing position in areas relative to clinical practice, management, consultation, research or education.

"For the most part, students have chosen teaching as their career goal so that a majority of the students are being prepared to teach in the area of psychiatric community health nursing," Dean Forni said.

The nursing educator also said that "the disadvantaged, underserved and minority constituencies that pervade this area will stand to gain much from the potential impact of graduates from the program—regardless of whether their career goals are chosen in clinical practice, teaching, research, management or consultation."

"Nurses prepared at the master's level are much needed in this area to enhance the mental health care delivery system," she added.

Chemotherapy study to continue in area

Research that may someday aid in the discovery of new chemotherapy agents for cancer treatment will continue at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville under a $12,340 grant from the National Institute of General Medical Sciences. This is the second year of funding from the National Institute.

Project Director Ralph L. Bain, chairman of the department of chemistry at SUIE, said preliminary work was funded through the university's Graduate School and the Office of Research and Projects.

He will be assisted in his research by Professor Michael Matta, Associate Prof. Jack Spencer and Assistant Prof. Michael Landis.

The project, "Equilibrium Studies with Platinum Amine Complexes," involves study of platinum-containing chemotherapy agents using laser Raman spectroscopy—a form of spectroscopic analysis using a laser beam.

Chemotherapy is the treatment of disease by chemical agents that attack the organism causing the sickness without harming the patient. Prof. Bain said the SUIE researchers will study the effect these chemotherapy agents have on model macromolecules.

"We hope to improve the initial testing criteria for chemotherapeutic agents," Bain said. He added that when they learn how these agents affect molecules, cancer research will be aided, since scientists will understand more about how cancer medicines work.

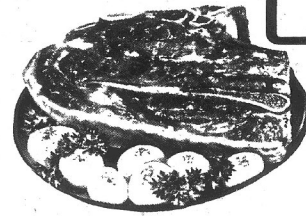

"If the research is successful, there may be better criteria available for producing chemotherapy agents. This can greatly aid in cancer research," he believes.

Less pollution soon, air board predicts

In spite of heavy levels of air pollution in this area—especially in particulates—The Granite City Air Pollution Control Board is looking forward to lower levels in the near future due to increased surveillance and closer working affiliations with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the board said in an annual report presented to city officials last week.

Air pollution continues to be a serious concern for Granite City, the report said, noting that "Data from last year ranks us among the most polluted in the state of Illinois."

But, the report to City Council members said, "the local agency has substantial responsibilities for carrying out the implementation plan of the state of Illinois in effecting intense surveillance due to the large number of pollution sources in the area and the resulting high level of air pollution."

"The Granite City agency insures that duplication of state activities and procedures are minimized in order to best effect the attainment of National Ambient Air Quality Standards."

In relating the history of the clean air board which was established here in April 1965, the report referred to agreements by industry to install pollution control equipment and the operation of monitoring stations upon which the agency's air pollution data is based.

The report refers particularly to the Illinois EPA agreement with Granite City Steel in early 1976.

"Data supplied by our local agency was essential in establishing the need for and the terms for such action," the board said.

"Over a three-year period,

THE KEY TO ALL YOUR REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE Needs!

Granite City Steel has agreed to spend $17.5 million. "The report noted, adding that "This money will be channeled into two major operations of the company—the coke ovens and the basic oxygen furnace."

The report also outlined agency activities in achieving an agreement with Luria Bros in September last year.

"In the past," the report said, "smoldering railroad cars from their steel reclamation (Luria Bros.) project would periodically catch on fire."

"As a result, our office received numerous complaints. Aggressive enforcement action by the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board culminated in the initiation of strict work rules and the installation of equipment to extinguish these fires immediately."

Open burning of trash has been usually eliminated as a result of the agency's efforts, "thus eliminating the stench which resulted in our neighborhoods," the board said.

The report noted that "Most of our industrial sources are in compliance with state laws and city ordinances. These companies have also made significant expenditures both in control equipment and operational changes to enhance the quality of the air over the past two years. Industrial sources also have been very cooperative in notifying us of upset conditions."

Expenditures in air pollution may seem an excessive burden at first glance, the report added.

"However, when the jobs created directly from development, construction, operation, maintenance, monitoring and surveillance of these controls are taken into consideration, quite a boost to the economy is recognized."

"Secondly, and even more importantly," the report said, "improved health should be realized. For example, lung cancer is found twice as often in polluted cities as in rural areas. Air pollution is also known to be a major contributor to emphysema and chronic bronchitis."

"It is estimated that air pollution causes $16 billion a year in damage to property and crops. Therefore, we must continue to push for cleaner air."

Schmidt joins racing board; Giannini on airport authority

Governor James R. Thompson announced Thursday he has appointed Charles E. Schmidt Jr., Barrington Hills, as a member of the Illinois Racing Board.

From 1968 to 1973, he was a practicing attorney with the firm of Shaheen, Lundberg and Callahan, and was a broker with Merrill Lynch from 1973 to 1975. Schmidt's term expires July 1, 1982. Board members receive $150 per diem for their service. Other appointments announced by the governor are: Nels E. Werner, Chicago, as a member of the Illinois Pollution Control Board, replacing Philip Zeitlin, Chicago, for a term ending July 1, 1980; $30,000 a year salary.

Jack T. Knuefer, Elmhurst, reappointed to the Health Facilities Planning Board for a term ending July 1, 1979; $50 per diem.

Fr. Gehlen assigned to St. Mark's Church

The Rev. Elzear G. Gehlen, SVD, has assumed the duties of parish priest at St. Mark's parish in Venice.

Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas announced that the Society of the Divine Word, Techney, Ill., has accepted the responsibility of staffing the local parish.

According to the bishop, a second Divine Word priest, as yet unnamed, will assist Fr. Gehlen in administering the parish.

FATHER GEHLEN

He was ordained by Bishop William O'Brien on Aug. 15, 1944.

Immediately after ordination he received a mission appointment to New Guinea, but was unable to leave the country until after the war in 1947.

Soon after his arrival in the mountain regions of New Guinea, Father Gehlen built his mission church, school and other buildings necessary to the station. After seven years, in the course of his work, he was thrown from a horse, sustaining a severe back injury which necessitated his return to America.

After two years convalescence in Rochester, Minn., and Glencoe, Fr. Gehlen was appointed assistant pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church in 1956. The following year, he became director of the community center at St. Anselm's and in 1961 he was appointed pastor there.

According to Bishop McNicholas, the Society of the Divine Word is "primarily a missionary order founded in Holland by Fr. Arnold Jansen, the same man who founded the Pink Sisters Community. Besides their worldwide missionary work they have specialized in inter-racial work in the United States."

It was noted by the Bishop that two of the three black Catholic bishops in this country were trained and educated by the order and were presiding members of the Society of Divine Word at the time of their appointment as bishops.

Some elderly losing food stamp benefits

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Advisor, Home Economics

"Many eligible senior citizens are losing out on food stamp benefits," says Sterling Alam, University of Illinois Extension family life specialist.

A recent study by the Maryland Office on Aging found that 35 per cent of the seniors in a nutrition program did not know whether or not they were eligible for food stamps.

The officials surmised that most of them would have been eligible had they applied. Only 18 per cent were getting food stamps. Another 15 per cent thought they were entitled to the stamps but chose not to apply. Alam believes the situation in Illinois mirrors that in Maryland. Many eligible senior Illinoisans are not using food stamps for reasons similar to those uncovered by the Maryland study. Older citizens are put off by the "hassles" of applying for benefits.

They often do not have the minimum cash required to buy the stamps. And they dislike thinking of themselves as recipients of charity.

Several steps are now being taken to correct this situation, says Alam. In Washington there are now proposals before Congress to eliminate the purchase requirement which is a barrier to an estimated six million eligible people, "the poorest of the poor."

In Illinois a number of organizations are trying to find those who are eligible, let them know what is available and persuade them to accept benefits they deserve.

Even closer to home, says Alam, friends and relatives can be most effective in encouraging older persons isolated in rural communities and inner cities to seek the help they need and deserve.

Food stamps may be available to people not on other public aid. Persons seeking information about eligibility should contact the County Public Aid Office, concludes Alam.

Rocket launch July 22

Who said rocketry is dead? Not member of Bob Williams' aerospace education class at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The public is being invited to watch the third annual rocket launch Friday morning, July 22, at the soccer field on the campus. Takeoff time will be between 9 and 10:30.

Students will be launching rockets they have constructed in the class.

Lifting their handmade rockets into the wild blue yonder will be launchers with diverse flying experience, ranging from elementary teachers who plan to teach what they have learned in their own classrooms to flight enthusiasts who just want to see if they can get off the ground.

In addition to school teachers, businessmen, grandmothers and youngsters firing their model planes and rockets, the flight exhibition will include demonstrations by a U.S. Army helicopter and the launching of weather balloons.

Members of the aerospace workshop are scheduled to be flown Sunday, July 24, by an U.S. Air Force C-130 from Scott Air Force Base to Andrews Air Force Base in Washington, D.C.

Three days of classroom experience will be spent at the Smithsonian Institution helping write curriculum for Smithsonian programs, Williams said. During their stay in Washington, D.C., students will be housed at Georgetown University.

The workshop is designed to instruct teachers in the techniques of teaching dynamics of airplanes and flight.

Knepper, Wallace, Bryeans victorious

A triple-header auto racing program Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway resulted in three different drivers emerging as winners in their feature events for the first time this season.

Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo. captured the late model stock car main event, Harold Bryeans of Granite City won the sportsman stock car feature, and Indianapolis veteran Arnold Knepper of Belleville claimed top honors in the midget auto racing finale.

The local speedway will host American Motorcyclist Association-sanctioned racing on the quarter-mile oval tomorrow evening, starting at seven o'clock, and on Wednesday will feature super-print car competition on the larger track, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Wallace, defending track titlist, joined Kenny Shrum and Kenny Schrader as a heat race victor and then waited until the lead in the 25-lap feature event had changed hands twice before charging past two cars enroute to victory.

Placing in order behind Wallace were Shrum, Wib Spalding, Bill Myers, Len Gettemeier and Willie Johnson.

Shrum also won a handicap race and Terry Galahar captured a semifinal event.

Other sportsman racing it was a tough night for Paul Gebhart who earlier had won his heat race. He led the feature from the start and was battling St. Louisian Pat Walsh for the lead in the main event going down to the wire on the last lap.

As Gebhart and Walsh came out of turn four side-by-side, headed for the checkered flag, Bryeans produced a surge of power which sped him past the two leaders and into victory lane.

Walsh was second, Gebhart third, Gary Wallace fourth and Bill Ried, fifth.

Other sportsman division heat race victors were Jerry Zehnle and Ried.

Veteran midget driver Knepper also won his preliminary heat race before leading the 20-lap feature event from the start. Mike Stroud and Danny Frye Jr. were also heat race winners.

Frye, Jon Backlund, Nick Gomerick, Stroud and Terry Werh placed in order behind Knepper in the finale of the program.

Mitchell wins 6-2, Mercer 6-1 winner

Heavy rains delayed the Quad-City area yesterday afternoon, forcing postponement of most Illinois Inter-City Baseball League action, but not before the Mitchell Athletic team moved to within one game of league-leading Vans by beating the Vans 6-2 in Mitchell.

A second contest between the two clubs fell victim to the wet weather and is required to be played before Aug. 7.

Merced improved its season record with a 6-1 win over Panama yesterday at Wilson Park before weather prevented the second game.

Panama committed three errors, including one in the fifth, which enabled two Merced runners to cross the plate. Following hits by Jack Scarborough and Peterson, a throwing error to first allowed both to score and Dave Schaeke to reach base. Greenwald then provided a run-scoring single.

The Thomas contest was halted with the score deadlocked in an extra inning. With Alton at bat in the bottom of the eighth.

Thomas Dave Melzer, 2-for-4 at the plate, had blasted a solo homer in the top of that inning.

According to a league spokesman, that contest will be rescheduled and played in its entirety prior to Aug. 7.

Inter-City 'star wars' Wednesday

Four squads will be represented as one team: Stan Hale, Gene Logas, Doug Rains, Dennis Solberger and Dave Melzer of Thomas; Jeff Donahue, Steve Ponton, Ralph Jackson and Darrell Butler of the East Alton Brewers; Don Cook, John Young, Richard Schmidt and Kevin Werner of I&J; and Hector Sanabria, Jim Kowarik, Rick Hawkes, Tom Carroll, Jon Henke and Brian Sikes of Mitchell Athletic Club.

Boost penalty to $500

Discussion of an amendment to Granite City's ordinance setting fees for permits to install warm air heating equipment resulted last week in an increase in the penalty clause to $500 for each violation (failure to obtain the permits).

The action was taken on a motion by Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Ray Bowler after several aldermen said they were aware that permits were not obtained in many instances by contractors installing such equipment.

Responding to a question by an alderman, Anthony Rusick, building inspector, admitted "it is hard to collect these fees," noting that contractors frequently proceed with installation of various types of equipment without applying for permits.

Alderman Clyde Bowd said he had heard of a number of instances in which no permits were obtained. He noted that from 1969 to 1973, contractors obtained 150 such permits, but from 1973 until the present, only 73 permits have been issued so far.

The ordinance amendment, designed to revise the fee schedule for permits, calls for payment of permit fees ranging from $1 for installation of a domestic type incinerator to a fee of $4 for a permit to replace a warm air furnace.

After the discussion concerning the number of permits issued, Bowler asked City Attorney George Filcoff the amount of the penalty in the original ordinance for failure to obtain permits. Filcoff said the present penalty is a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $100.

Bowler said he thought one way to correct the problem would be to assess a higher penalty for violators.

He moved to amend the penalty clause of the ordinance to range from $500 to $1,000, but Filcoff said that a penalty in a city ordinance cannot exceed $500.

Bowler then changed his amendment to provide a $500 penalty for those charged with failure to obtain permits.

As a result, several aldermen claimed this was unfair because the lesser penalty still would be included in other city building codes, and that if the warm air heating penalty were changed, the council also should change all of the others.

On a roll call vote, Bowler's motion to raise the penalty carried 8 to 6.

Council members were told in last week's meeting that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has certified Gary Clark, 2712 Iowa St., as a sewage treatment operator with a certificate of competency.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that such city employees who attend school and training sessions to better themselves in their jobs "deserve commendation," and said that Clark should advance to the next step of the pay schedule which will provide a $15 monthly pay increase.

The council was notified of an

KIRKPATRICK BURGLARY
Items valued at a total of $46 were stolen during a burglary at the home of Cafey Busby, 2904 Kirkpatrick Homes, between 3 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Saturday. There were no signs of forced entry. Stolen were a fan, a radio and about $8 cash. The upstairs bedroom was ransacked.

Injury in an accident case involving a city vehicle. The notice said Nina Jean Oliver, 3005 Kirkpatrick Homes, was injured at 3:40 p.m. July 4 when her car, backing from Kirkpatrick homes, was struck by a police car.

A bid by the Paul Seebold firm of $55,962 for construction of shooting range facilities for the police department was referred back to the Police Committee for study.

A bid also was submitted by C. D. Peters Co. for $82,337 and an alternate of $59,962. Council members noted that the estimate for the work was $46,516, and it might be possible to revise the lower bid to near the estimate. The committee is to report on the matter in the July 19 council session.

$10,000 lottery win by retired GC man

"I have no plans for the money, but it is going to help my retirement." 71-year-old Charles Drennan, 2583 Waterman Ave., commented calmly after being informed he had won $10,000 in the Illinois State Lottery's instant lottery bingo game.

Drennan retired after 52 years of employment in the warehouse of the Tri-City Grocery Co. True to his company, he purchased his winning ticket from the Tri-City Grocery store in Belleme Village Shopping Center.

Drennan said he has been buying lottery tickets for about three years, but was confused by the bingo game.

"This was the first ticket I bought in the new game and I thought I might have won, so I took the ticket back to Tri-City Grocery and showed it to someone there and he verified it was a winner.

"Then I took it to the claim center in East St. Louis and they took it and gave me a receipt for my ticket," Drennan related.

He said he bought the ticket three weeks ago, but has just been informed by letter from the state lottery office that it has been verified as a $10,000 winner.

He said he also has been informed that 20 per cent, or $2,000, will be taken out of the check for taxes, but he expects to receive an $8,000 check any day.

"I am just going to put it in the bank. When you are retired, it is nice to have money in the bank," Drennan commented.

Utility, fuel aid available

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) has been designated as the local administering agency for the federally-funded Special Energy Assistance Program in Madison County.

The announcement was made by the governor's Office of Manpower and Human Development.

Under the program, low-income individuals and families, including the elderly, who meet the income qualifications specified by the federal government, are eligible to have payments of up to $250 paid to their utility and fuel firms.

Approximately $279,000 is available to help low income residents of the county offset last winter's increased utility and fuel bills.

Since all monies must be distributed by Aug. 31, 1977, EOC officials are contacting township supervisors and other special service agencies to establish a network of application sites where residents may apply for the special energy assistance benefits.

The state departments of Public Aid and Aging, and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will assist in carrying out the program to insure that all qualified Illinois citizens can benefit.

The program is tentatively scheduled to begin July 20 in Madison County, pending receipt of final instructions from the state by EOC.

Hearing on use of revenue sharing

A hearing on proposed uses of federal revenue sharing funds will be held by Granite City in the conference room on the third floor of the City Hall at 1 p.m. Monday, July 21.

Citizens will be given an opportunity to suggest possible uses of revenue sharing funds and to make written or oral comments.

Car components to tech center

General Motors Corporation has presented some of the latest automotive components to the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, it was announced today.

The equipment donation included a distributor and two starters.

The gift was presented to the school by George S. Keesee, manager of the St. Louis General Motors Training Center. K. Duane Rankin, director, accepted it on behalf of the school.

"The gift reflects General Motors' continuing interest in education and is one of many such contributions which have been made to schools to help train students in the field of auto mechanics," Keesee said.

"Such contributions have proved to be of real value to educators in their shops, classrooms and laboratories in training qualified personnel to meet the needs of a growing automotive industry."

In 1976, GM made donations of automotive and appliance components and other equipment to 1,322 junior and senior high schools, technical institutions and colleges; the gifts being valued at more than $1 million.

In addition to these parts and tools, GM granted allowances totaling $13.4 million to dealers for 37,488 new vehicles which were loaned to high school service education programs during the 1975-76 school year. This amounted to 62.9 per cent of all vehicles loaned to high schools for driver training during the year.

Open discussion on faculty bargaining

Southern Illinois University's board of trustees is scheduled to hear opinions on faculty collective bargaining at an open session preceding its July meeting in Springfield Thursday.

The session will start at 9:30 a.m. in the SIU at Carbondale School of Medicine Auditorium (800 N. Rutledge) as a regular board meeting will follow at 11 a.m. It will be the first time the SIU trustees have met in Springfield since 1971.

SIU's trustees scheduled the discussion session for "interested groups or individuals who wish to share opinions regarding faculty collective bargaining."

The board has withheld a commitment on faculty unions while waiting to see if the state will approve enabling legislation.

As of a July 7 deadline, ten individuals and bargaining group representatives had requested time to be heard at the special session. Two are from SIU at Edwardsville and eight from SIU at Carbondale.

SIUC items up for action on the regular meeting agenda include a memorandum of understanding to cover the university's part in a long-studied railroad depression project in Carbondale; new program budget requests for the School of Medicine; a license agreement to extend city cablevision service to the Evergreen Terrace family housing project; plans to expand animal-holding operations into a remodeled building; award of a campus easement to Carbondale can build a new water line from its Cedar Lake reservoir, and several construction contracts, including one for an elevator in the Student Health Service.

Appeals of four SIUC faculty members, one of them involving a promotion denial, are to be heard by the board, and the university's planning and budget requests for next year's budget requests will be presented.

Among SIUC items on the agenda are a request for an American studies specialty in the master's degree English major, and honorary degree and Distinguished Service Award recommendations.

Set speech workshop for larynx cancer victims

The Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society again this year is helping to subsidize a special workshop for selected laryngectomies July 31 through Aug. 11, at Northwestern University in Evanston.

A laryngectomy is a person who has had surgical removal of the larynx (voice box) performed for cancer of the larynx.

The workshop will take place at the Speech Clinic in the Francis Searle Building at Northwestern, 2296 Sheridan Road, Evanston.

Dr. Hilda B. Fisher, professor of speech and language pathology in the Department of Communicative Disorders will direct the program.

Those attending will be laryngectomies interested in improving their speech, including new surgical patients with no prior speech training and more proficient alaryngeal speakers who wish to improve. First preference is given to men and women who have been unable to get speech training, or who have had difficulty in learning esophageal speech.

Grant money from the American Cancer Society enables candidates to attend who are unable to pay the cost of travel and living expense while at the workshop, it was learned.

The daily workshop schedule includes three individual speech lessons, two group speech sessions, a lecture-discussion period and a social period.

Husbands and wives of participants are allowed to join in certain recreational activities associated with the workshop program.

Some participants commute from their homes, while others arrange to live in University housing.

Further information concerning the program may be obtained from the American Cancer Society, 528 Henry St., Alton, or by calling 1-465-7821.

Signs state law for 47% of school costs

Governor James R. Thompson approved three bills Friday to appropriate $2 billion for Illinois elementary and secondary education in the 1977-78 fiscal year, a per-pupil increase of seven per cent over last year.

"The amount I am approving will provide the common schools of Illinois with more money than they have ever received before," Thompson said.

"We are advancing from 89 per cent to 95 per cent of full funding of the school formula."

"Under these appropriations, state government in Illinois will be providing 47 per cent of all the money spent on local schools, with local governments contributing 43 per cent and the federal government 10 per cent."

"This means that this state will provide the greatest percentage of local school funding of any comparable state in the nation."

"I stated my education recommendations in February, so local school districts would have plenty of time to plan the most effective uses for their school dollars."

"The Illinois General Assembly passed detailed education budget bills which in total coincided almost exactly with my earlier recommendations."

"The legislature and I are in agreement that these bills represent all the money that is available within a balanced budget."

"Because of our agreement, I can sign these bills, knowing that school districts won't be left hanging until a November veto session of the legislature to find out — half-way through their fiscal year — how much money they will have," the governor said.

Including Thompson's actions on higher education bills Wednesday, the state will provide more than $3 billion for all of education next year.

"The substantial dollar commitment will guarantee improvement in the quality of education statewide," he said. "The legislature did a responsible job in balancing the needs of our schools with the pressing financial needs of our state."

A total of $77 million in new state funds will be used for distributive aid, categorical grants, teacher retirement and operations of the Illinois Office of Education.

Greatest dollar support, $1.29 billion, will be used for aid to school districts under the formula.

Another $271 million will provide a seven per cent increase in categorical grants for special education, bilingual education, pupil transportation and others.

Thompson stressed that no mandated program will be funded at a level less than last year's, with most programs to receive increases.

Teachers' retirement again will be funded on the same basis as in prior years, with a $209 million allocation.

Operating funds for the Illinois Office of Education total $13.7 million in state funds, sixteenth-of-one-per-cent increase over last year's level.

"I believe the money earmarked for education in fiscal 1978 demonstrates my number one priority for education."

"While the year will be one of challenge for public schools in Illinois, the state is demonstrating its substantial financial commitment to elementary and secondary education," Thompson said.

School, nursing sisters to honor founder of Divine Providence Order

The Order of the School and Nursing Sisters of Divine Providence will pay tribute to its founder, Wilhelm (William) Emmanuel von Ketteler, Bishop of Mainz, Germany, July 29 through Aug. 1.

The Mount Providence Motherhouse, Normand, Mo., celebration involves locally stationed Sisters of St. Elizabeth Hospital, St. Elizabeth School and St. Mark-St. Mary School of Madison and Venice, and will attract over 100 Sisters from Massachusetts, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

A special mass will be said on July 13 by Bishop Joseph McNicholas. Similar celebrations commemorating the centennial of the death of Bishop Ketteler were held in Germany this summer.

Local province Sisters Mary Paul and Dorothy members of the SEIT governing board, attended the north central European celebration the week of June 13.

Known as "the bishop of the working class," Bishop von Ketteler (1811-1877) was a social critic whose writings influenced the positions of popes on the concerns of labor and management.

He called for action against child labor, long working hours for mothers of families, poor working conditions and chronic unemployment.

BISHOP WILHELM VON KETTELER

Bishop Ketteler's founding of the Order of School and Nursing Sisters of Divine Providence was one of his practical answers to the immediate needs of the poor, according to Sister Anita, resident authority on Bishop Ketteler.

These Sisters now work in Germany, Italy, Korea and Peru, in addition to the United States. It is no coincidence, Sister Anita noted, that the Sisters founded by the working class bishop are stationed in the steel towns of Pittsburgh and Granite City.

Township bus in 4-vehicle crash

The Granite City Township Chorus mini-bus was damaged in a four-vehicle accident at Nameoki Road and Edwards Street at 3:05 p.m. Friday. The crash resulted in injuries to two drivers.

Vivian Callender, 38, of 2327 Terminal Ave., driver of the township bus, said she was driving west on Edwards Street across Nameoki Road when the bus was struck by the southbound auto of Kevin McElroy, Tower Lake Apartments, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

McElroy said the bus pulled onto Nameoki Road in front of his car and he skidded on the wet pavement into the bus.

Upon impact, both vehicles slid southwest and the bus struck the station wagon of Roger Bloodworth, 33, of 1510 Twenty-third St., which was eastbound and stopped for the stop sign on Edwards Street.

Bloodworth's vehicle was pushed backward, striking the auto of John Guenther, 2500 Sheridan Ave., according to official reports.

Vivian Callender and Bloodworth were taken by Granite City ambulance to St.

Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted for observation after losing consciousness for a period and sustaining a neck injury.

There were no passengers on the bus, which was believed to have just unloaded a group of senior citizens at Anchorage Homes minutes before the accident.

4 injured seriously

Four Missouri youths were seriously injured when their auto was involved in a three-car accident on Interstate 270 at 11:20 p.m. Friday and their auto plunged down an embankment off Chouteau Island, throwing all four from the car.

The accident occurred 1.3 miles east of the Mississippi River in the westbound lanes. Illinois state troopers were told the auto of Daniel Roach, 17, St. Louis, bumped into the rear of the auto of Virginia Koeder and then went out of control.

Roach's auto went onto the inside shoulder and swerved right again, colliding with the westbound auto of Marie Pazerda, 58, St. Louis, witnesses said.

After the second crash, Roach's car continued to the north shoulder, hit a guardrail, rode up on the rail for several feet and then overturned several times before going down the embankment.

All four youths in the car were thrown out and landed at least 100 feet from where the demolished auto stopped.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Roach, Larry Miller, 15, St. Louis, Kenneth Sperry, 18, Bellefontaine Neighbors, and John Powers, 17, St. Louis.

Roach was semi-conscious and suffering from numerous bone fractures and cuts. X-rays were taken and he was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Powers suffered multiple cuts to his head, right arm and right side and also was transferred to Desloge.

Winners included Miss Denise Sutphin of Granite City High School North.

Applicants were required to certify they would train in the field of special education teaching and would teach in schools of Illinois for at least two of the five years immediately following graduation.

Applicants not receiving scholarships at the time are still eligible if any of the 250 scholarships issued in Illinois are returned unused.

Overpass engineers need help to meet funding deadlines

M. W. Architects & Engineers, St. engineering firm handling design planning for the proposed downtown Granite City overpass, was given permission by the City Council last week to subcontract part of the overpass engineering work.

The council granted the permission on a 11 to 3 vote after Aaron Pierson, vice-president of the firm, told the council that M. W. is in one of its busiest periods and that help is needed to move along the overpass project because of approaching deadlines to comply with terms of federal grants.

Pierson said the firm plans to employ Antoine-Hettman & Associates, Inc., of St. Louis to assist M. W. in the planning work.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward protested, however, that he believed M. W. should employ the Granite City engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab because that firm is a local business and pays taxes here.

Pierson said he believed the choice should remain with the M. W. firm because it is aware of the type of help needed in expediting the overpass project. "I wouldn't like to be placed in the position of being told what to do," Pierson told Whitmer. He said his firm also is confronted with the "rush job" of planning the proposed new jail and police station which Granite City plans to build with federal funds. This project also entails early deadlines, he said.

The council contract with the city for planning work on the overpass. As a result the employment of outside engineering help would be at no cost to the city, Pierson said, noting that payment to a subcontractor would be made by M. W. out of its own fee revenue.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the council that "We are on a tight schedule and while I wasn't aware they (M. W.) needed to sublet part of the work, I think we should do so to move these projects along."

Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward moved that the permission be granted, followed by a roll call vote in which Whitmer, Fred Schuman Jr., and Paul Ray Bowler cast negative votes.

Those favoring the request were Alderman Boyd, Roy Poulos, Ron Coleman, Charles Douglas, Mrs. Margaret Nunn, Lloyd Bailey, Gerald Farnley, Everett Morien, Glen Sprankle, Warren Decatur and Earl Baker.

Storm disrupts power

Lightning during a thunderstorm in the area at 3:30 p.m. Friday, damaged transformers of the Illinois Power Company, causing several hundred homes and businesses to be without power.

Supervisory personnel had to make all repairs because the Electrical Workers Union went on strike at 12:01 a.m. Friday and is still out.

Carl Mathias, service area manager for Illinois Power, said he is not aware of any further meetings called in reference to the strike.

"Most of the power outage was what we refer to as isolated — five or 10 homes in an area affected. Of course, the power went out of power longer than we like them to be," Mathias said.

The largest block of power outage was in Madison, around Seventh, Eighth and Iowa streets, where there were 100 or more homes and firms without power.

"We made the repairs as quickly as we could and met of power lines were back in service about 6 p.m. We did miss two homes in Granite City that were without power until Saturday morning."

Other communities affected by the storm were Troy, Wood River, Alton and Collinsville.

Franklin Sanders, 20, of 22 Briarcliff Drive, was charged Friday with theft and a 15-year-old is to be charged in juvenile court with burglary in connection with the burglary of a Central Hardware trailer June 13 behind the Granite City Central Hardware store.

Police allege the 15-year-old broke a hole in the trailer door and removed six coffee-makers and a lamp.

Sanders is charged with having had possession of some of those items. He was released at 4 p.m. Friday after posting $750 cash bond.

Business Women aid handicapped

Checks totaling $443 have been presented by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club to two local groups to support their endeavors in aiding handicapped children.

Mrs. Ruth Milbrouse, chairman of the BPW Investment Club, presented a check for $192 to Parents for Special Education at a meeting in the Office of Special Education Region I, 2801 Madison Ave.

The funds will be used to send two youths to summer camp at Little Grassy Lake in Carbondale.

A second check, amounting to $75, was presented to the group by Mrs. Rosalie Stearns, chairman of the BPW Community Affairs Committee, to help cover the expense of a skating party for handicapped youth.

The donated funds were earned by members of the business women's club for these specific purposes. Mrs. Lorene Sadrakula, BPW president said. Activities to raise the money included quilt sales, auctioning handmade items and jewelry parties, she explained.

Participating in the presentation with those mentioned were Marionrose Lambert, Gladys Newman, Ollie Derr, Edna Kohlbrecher, Ruth Walk and Ann Graklanoff. The BPW members also sent a check for $176 to the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, Mrs. Sadrakula said. The latter funds were collected by members in a rockathon event.

MRS. WADE W. FERGUSON the former Miss Cathy Ann Zarlingo who was married in a garden ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kammann in Hazelwood, Mo. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Paul Zarlingo, 2850 Idaho St.

Cathy Zarlingo marries Wade William Ferguson

Garden walkways lined with various color petunias and a background of hedge stone flowers and green shrubbery, provided the setting for the summer wedding of Miss Cathy Ann Zarlingo of Granite City and Wade William Ferguson of Norman, Okla., on June 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kammann, Hazelwood, Mo., grandparents of the groom.

The Rev. Kenneth Klingerman officiated at the 7 o'clock evening double ring service, followed by a reception held in the Kammann gardens, for guests.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. S. Paul Zarlingo, 2850 Idaho St. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ferguson, 7524 N.W. 12th, Oklahoma City, Okla.

A white chiffon A-line bridal gown fashioned with a high neckline and long skirt encircled with a gathered flounce was worn by the bride.

The elbow length type sleeves were created as a cape effect from the shoulders and was bordered with a gathered ruffle. She wore a fluted brim hat and she held a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath, festooned with blue streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Annie Koenig, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Miss Paula Tucker, Miss Nancy McCracken and Miss Shereth Twilney.

They selected voile gowns in rainbow colors, blue, yellow, pink and green. White Chantilly lace accented the bodices and trimmed the high necklines and formed a pinafore effect.

The long sleeves were full and gathered and a deep ruffle of dotted swiss, gathered with Chantilly lace, bordered the hemlines. Each held a nosegay of multi-color carnations and baby's breath.

John Durbin attended the groom as best man. Steve Giebe, Randy Ganz and Lance Kennerly served as groomsmen.

Mrs. Zarlingo was gowned in a rose color dress and the groom's mother, Mrs. Ferguson was attired in a pink gown. Both mothers wore white accessories and white carnation corsages.

The newlyweds are now residing in Norman, Okla., following a honeymoon at Tanager Resort.

A 1975 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride was employed as a secretary at Traveler's Motor Club, St. Louis. The groom is a 1972 graduate of South High School and is attending Oklahoma University.

New Army commands activated

Approximately 4,780 proposed personnel action notices were issued to employees of the U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command (AVSCOM) and the U.S. Army Troop Support Command (TROCOSCOM) in preparation for the merger of the two St. Louis-based Army commands.

The merger is associated with the creation of the U.S. Army Materiel Readiness Command (AVRDCOM) and the establishment of the U.S. Army Aviation Research and Development Command (AVRDCOM) effective July 1, 1977.

These actions resulted from the disestablishment of AVSCOM and TROCOSCOM, located at 12th and Spruce Streets and at 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, respectively.

In the reorganization, the Army is merging AVSCOM and AVRDCOM. Both new organizations will ultimately be co-located at the Goodfellow Federal Center.

Proposed personnel actions include reassignments of employees with their positions, or into vacancies, in the new organizations by transfer or function.

Other proposed personnel actions include reassignments into other types of positions and changes to lower grades through reduction-in-force actions.

Personnel officials noted that after the initial stage of the personnel reorganization was begun, personnel had until this month to respond to the position offers. Personnel turbulence is dependent on the number of personnel who decline job offers, retire or otherwise terminate their federal service, providing other job opportunities for remaining qualified personnel.

There were 3,029 letters of job offers sent to AVSCOM employees and 1,751 to TROCOSCOM employees.

Headquarters AVSCOM has 604 civilian service positions while Headquarters AVRDCOM has 604 civilian service positions form personnel resources currently in the two St. Louis-based commands.

The move of AVSCOM personnel from the downtown Federal Mart Building to the Goodfellow Federal Center will begin during July.

Final SIUE budget; $90 tuition increase

Appropriations totaling $33,502,800 for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were included in the higher education funding bills approved last week by Gov. James R. Thompson.

James F. Metcalf, budget director and acting vice-president for business affairs at SIUE, said the appropriation includes $33,167,700 for operations, $107,000 for new capital improvements and $188 for capital reappropriations.

Cut from the funds for SIUE, along with other institutions of higher education, were one-half per cent additional salary increases and two-and-one-half per cent additional utility increases which had been provided by legislative amendments. The losses for SIUE amounted to $13,900 and $27,500 respectively, Metcalf said.

Funds approved by the legislature are virtually the same as those included in his budget for higher education announced in March.

They include salary increases of five per cent, with an additional two per cent for Civil Service range and student employees, 10 per cent for utility cost increases and four per cent for other price increases.

The legislation approved by the governor includes tuition hikes of approximately $90 for undergraduate and $120 for graduate students at the state's public institutions.

Metcalf said the new capital improvements in the bill include $111,000 for master planning for the School of Dental Medicine and $55,000 equipment funds for the dental school.

Capital reappropriations are for continuation of projects for which appropriations were received in the preceding year. The entire $108,100 is for renovation and remodeling of the East St. Louis Center.

Metcalf explained that the operating appropriation consists of $27,847,600 from general revenue and $5,328,100 from the university income fund.

The operating appropriation represents an increase of $1,915,100 over the preceding year. This increase consists of $1,326,300 for salary increases, $293,900 for price increases, $22,700 for physical plant operations of new facilities, $150,000 for new and expanded programs and $82,200 for refunds and student aid.

The $33,167,700 operating funds for SIUE compare with $33,502,800 originally recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) and $38,833,800 requested by the university. The appropriated figure resulted from an IBHE allocation of Gov. Thompson's proposed budget in March.

Farmers' vegetable sale

The Downtown Merchants' Promotion Committee will hold an experimental one-day farmers' fresh vegetable sale on the corner lot at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, Friday at 9 a.m.

A number of local vegetable growers will park one load of fresh home-grown produce on the lot and start the sale at 9 a.m. on an experimental basis. All of them have promised nothing but the finest vegetables will be sold at a reasonable price.

This will be the same type of market that is now held in Wood River and Alton one day per week. It gives everyone an opportunity to purchase home grown, fresh vegetables in addition to bringing in a group of farmers and purchasers to the downtown area.

This is an effort on the part of the Downtown Promotion Committee, consisting of all downtown merchants who are interested in reviving interest in downtown, a spokesman said.

Art show at State Fair

Illinois artists can try their hand at $5,000 in premiums, as the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 11-12, will again host a professional art show.

Categories include painting, watercolor, drawings and graphics, sculpture and crafts. The highest prize offered is the $1,000 Governor's Purchase Award provided by contributions from private citizens and corporate businesses throughout the state.

This year's coordinator, Kathy Hillier, Chatham, Northern Illinois University graduate in Fine Arts, expects 300 entries in the various categories. Last year there were 276 entries.

"My goal is to top last year's number of entries," she said. Judges Jan Nuhliert, acting director of the University of Iowa Art Museum and Byron Burford, painter and professor with the University of Iowa Art Department, will select semi-finalists in each category. Finalists' work will be viewed in the Herbert Georg Professional Art Gallery on the main floor of the Exposition Building.

After the Fair, the show is scheduled to be displayed at First Federal Savings and Loan of Chicago.

Along with the Professional Art Show is an Amateur Art Show and a Junior division. Entry forms for both art shows may be obtained by contacting Kathy Hillier, Illinois State Fair, P.O. Box 576, Springfield, Ill. 62705, phone 217-782-4154.

Old Style

Brewed in a traditional Old World way called Kraeusening

From the very first day our brewery was opened Kraeusening, naturally carbonated in the traditional Old World way. Kraeusening is the most natural way to brew beer and the most expensive. Most expensive because kraeusening takes more time. A pure brewing double brewing art that Old Style insists on using to this very day. When you brew a beer once you've got a good beer, but when you brew a beer twice you've got a great beer and that in essence is what kraeusening is all about.

Sure, we could use short cuts but we don't, and we don't. Because at Old Style we don't aim to make the most beer, only the best. That's why Old Style has been fully, that's a fully kraeusened, naturally carbonated since 1853. Try Old Style.

Taste the difference Kraeusening makes.
